SKETCHES OF LITTLE OLD NEW YORK
BY O. O. McINTYRE

Telegram Bureau: Rooms 121-125 Hotel Majestic, West Seventy-second Street.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—"K. C. B." the new column conductor who came from Seattle, Wash., and here all New York here worshipping him in three weeks, decided the other evening to take a trip to Coney Island. He went up and asked the man on Forty Second street, who was selling tickets, how long it would be before the bus left.

Without looking at him he said: "It'll go in three minutes" and so "K. C. B." bought his ticket and got on. After waiting another fifteen minutes he said to the ticket man: "You told me you were going to start in three minutes." And whatever it was he was looking at over in Jersey he kept looking at it and said:

Easy Way to Get Rid of Itching

Don't worry any more about that itching skin-trouble. Just get a jar of Resinol ointment and a cake of Resinol soap at any drug store. With the Resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the Resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Choosing Your Shampoo Soap

If you select a soap that contains soothing, healing properties like the Resinol balms in Resinol soap, you are not likely to have trouble with dandruff, loss of hair or itching scalp. Ideal for the youngsters' heads.

"So we are," So "K. C. B." got back on the bus and told the rest of the people it was all right that the bus would start and they all clapped and thanked him. After another ten minutes' wait the bus was filled all but one seat. So "K. C. B." announced he was going to ask them again and everybody cheered. He said to the ticket man: "Will you please tell me when you're going to start?"

And whatever it was he'd been looking for over in Jersey he must have found it for he looked at him and said: "I've told you twice we were going to start in three minutes. Get back in your seat."

He did. And just then a man came along and climbed up in the vacant seat and the stage started. And said "K. C. B.": "That last man thinks it is a fine bus line."

He was from Columbus, O., and he had been in town ten days on a vacation. He stood in the lobby of the Knickerbocker talking to a porter as I passed. "You think this is some town, eh? Well, you're wrong. Look at your torn up streets, those pitchers of beer at a dollar a throw, forty cents for corn on the cob, high picture shows, taxi robbers, insulting waiters, snarling street car conductors, hula hula dancers and your all-night joints! Do you call that living? Take my bag out to the taxi. I am going back where they know how to live." And the porter remarked to a fellow porter that the heat had got to the poor fellow finally.

This is the time of year when New Yorkers, by dint of showing visiting cousins around the city, learn just what has been going on around town since last summer. For instance, C. L. Edson, the Arkansas poet, did not know where there were three new skyscrapers in the neighborhood of Herald square.

Old Pop Knickerbocker, the well known city parent, has so many strikes shooting in his direction that he is now in imminent danger of fanning the air with the buses full.

At this delicious moment the walking delegate is the umpire, and he is giving Pa Knick all the first of the breaks as Old Grant Rice would say. Four strikes at one time are more than the rules of the game allow and also more than New York has had for quite a spell. Two of them are at hand and two more are on the way. The striking car men and garment workers may soon be joined by 20,000 barbers in the five boroughs and 35,000 tailors. The city chin scrappers are just on the eve of throwing down their razors and bay run and quitting their chairs.

It isn't a sympathetic strike that is contemplated, because the number of persons the barbers are in sympathy with isn't large enough to start any kind of strike.

Manicure shops have now been opened on Staten Island ferry boats and it is the first intimation that New York had that Staten Islanders ever manicured their nails.

BEAUTY DOCTOR IS FOUND IN ARSENAL

To Whom Hundreds of Girls Go to Keep Their Faces from Turning Yellow.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Woolwich arsenal is about the last place one might look for a beauty specialist, yet it is right in the center of that hive of death-dealing machinery manufacture that one can be found. Right in the heart of this great arsenal a "Woman's Welfare Department" is presided over by a lady superintendent, who has thousands of girls under her care, to administer to their ailments and care for their complexions. It is from the high explosives and lydlite sections that the girls mostly come from for advice as to rest from the dangerous work which turns their faces a yellow tint. Proper care and precautions are not taken in time. Starting with about 400 girls, the welfare department now has charge of thousands. The girls are advised to avoid jewelry, bangles and such vanities, and they dress in neat blue, gray or khaki overalls and eat at a smart little Young Woman's Christian Association canteen, which is decorated with pink walls and prettily decked tables.
